

Can YOUR Family of Four Survive on Minimum Wage?

The Women's Forum of North Carolina invites you to learn more about topical issues including North Carolina elections, voting, immigration, health care, economics, unemployment, poverty, and their effect on "The State of Women" during our Fall Program on Saturday, Nov. 16.

Featured Speakers include (10 a.m.)

Kim Strach, Executive Director
North Carolina State Board of Elections

Melinda Lawrence, Executive Director
North Carolina Justice Center

Then join the conversation and confront the day-to-day challenges and decisions facing low-wealth families and individuals during the "Spent" online presentation and the Interactive Poverty Simulation hosted by the North Carolina Community Action Association.

Wake County Commons Building
4011 Cary Drive / Raleigh, NC

"Poverty Is Everybody's Business!"

